The Electric Motor Proves a Great Success.

DANA PUFFS GENERAL RAWLINS.

Maryland Cotton Mills Resume Work—Jim Renwick Wins a Race at Coney Island—Ferdinand Ward Examined

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The managers of the elevated roads are making preparations to run their cars by electricity. Last night the Daft electric motor was given a trial trip which was in every respect satisfactory. The motor was attached to a regular Ninth avenue passenger coach with about thirty people on board. At 10:30 P. M. the signal was given by Mr. Daft, and without the least jarring the train started out from the Fourteenth street station up a steep grade. It ran smoothly and without noise, the intermittent flashes of the electric light and sparks from the still rusty rail marking its progress. Thirty-fourth street was reached at 23 minutes to 11. From this to the Fiftieth street station the motor sped without stop, reaching the end of the electric road at 42 minutes past 10. On the return trip the run from end to end was made in seven minutes. The schedule time of the road, including stops, was nine minutes. Hundreds of people along the route cheered as the train sped by.

STATUE OF COMMODORE PERRY.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 1.—The ceremony of laying the corner stone of the statue to the memory of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, of Lake Erie fame, was performed this morning with all the pomp and ritual of the grand lodge of Masons. The statue is now beside the base and will be placed in position to-morrow. The entire height of the statue and base is twenty-eight feet. The base is of the best Westerly granite. On one side is the [illegible] Perry, and on the reverse the well known sentence, first heard on Lake Erie in 1813: "We have met the enemy and they are ours." The lower tier of the base is divided into four sections, while the top tier is square and in one block. The figure of the statue itself is very striking. It represents the naval hero as having just stepped out from the boat that conveyed him from the ship Lawrence to the ship Niagara, standing hat in hand upon the deck of the latter with an upraised hand giving directions to the men aloft so trim the sails as to enable him to run alongside the enemy. The statue is in bronze and weighs about four tons. It is located exactly opposite the Perry mansion.

CATTLE BEING SPEEDILY REMOVED.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.—Little Rock special to the Times-Democrat: An Indian territory special says the removal of cattle from the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservations is progressing as rapidly as the conditions permit. Several of the largest cattle owners have removed their entire herds, excepting such stock as escaped the recent round-up. Within the past two weeks more than 5,000 head of cattle have been driven off the reservations, which number added to those already removed makes the total over 100,000. It is estimated that the number remaining is between 40,000 and 75,000 head. These will be taken out as speedily as possible. Only a few days beyond the date fixed by President Cleveland's proclamation will be required to clear the entire reservation of all the cattle which do not rightfully belong there. Cattlemen accept the situation cheerfully, and there is concerted action among them to comply with the executive mandate for removal. Losses are estimated all the way from $10,000 to $[illegible], the bulk of the cattle being driven or shipped to western ranges.

DANA PUFFS GEN. RAWLINS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Dana in the Sun to-day renews his charge that Grant owed an unrecognized obligation to Gen. Rawlins. He says: "Gen. Grant's siege of Vicksburg, of which his own account appears to-day in a magazine, is a graphic [illegible] narrative as far as it goes. We can not suppress our regret that he has omitted references to the influence which guided him safely through the perils which surrounded him and kept him in chief command until he vindicated himself by the splendid campaign which ended with the investment of Petersburg. We are justified from personal knowledge in saying that Rawlins was a potent factor in much of what took place. Grant could have told how persistent Rawlins was in advancing his plan which resulted in the capture of Vicksburg, and which Grant finally adopted, but he fails even to mention the name of Rawlins. A truthful history of Vicksburg has yet to be written."

ESCAPED ON A TECHNICALITY.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 1.—In the United States district court to-day a preliminary hearing was had on the complaint of Postmaster Gardiner against Albert L. Bosworth, treasurer of the Stafford mills, Fall River, for the sending of an obscene letter through the mails addressed to a lady of eminent respectability residing in this city. The court, after quoting several decisions, discharged the prisoner on the ground that the mailing of a private letter of the character named was not an offense [illegible] of the law to provide against the mailing of certain classes of matter. The letter was particularly vile, and the prisoner admitted his guilt when arrested. The court's opinion was based on the fact that the law was specific in interdicting several carefully described classes of matter and must be construed strictly.

MASONIC BOARDS OF RELIEF.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1.—The national convention of Masonic boards of relief resumed its session to-day. The committee on organization reported in favor of organizing permanently for the purpose of facilitating the exposure of persons traveling around the country and imposing on lodges and for the collection of statistics, etc. The constitution was adopted providing for an election of officers and the organization will be known as the General Relief Association of the United States and Canada. The election will be held to-morrow night. It is likely that either John Hope of New York or Martin Collins of Missouri will be elected president and Dr. [illegible] Remington of Baltimore secretary. The sentiment of the convention seems to be in favor of St. Louis as the place of meeting a year hence.

SMALL BILLS IN DEMAND.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The Sun says: Since Treasurer Jordan's order that all $1 and $2 bills in the sub-treasury should be sent to Washington in a further effort to circulate silver, bank presidents say they have been sorely cramped for small bills. When their customers began to refuse to take silver they were forced to use their supply of $5 bills. They now report that their supply of bills of this denomination is nearly exhausted. At the sub-treasury it was learned that local banks have called for $10,000, $20,000 and $[illegible]0,000 packages of $5 bills and that the assistant treasurer's action cannot help them much longer. His own supply, he said, is dwindling fast and he believes that in a few days he will be compelled to ask Treasurer Jordan for a fresh supply.

A BAD YEAR FOR NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 1.—The Picayune says: The business year just closed has brought to end one of the most discouraging eras in the commercial history of New Orleans. It was a year of no profits and general steady losses and a season of shaken confidence and industrial depression. The past year has been a season of short crops at home and [illegible] production abroad, which forced upon us small sales and low prices all at once. [illegible] The foreign trade has recently fallen off, but the [illegible] is greater than average and better times are looked forward to.

THE TEXAS COTTON CROP.

GALVESTON, Sept. 1.—Cotton receipts of Galveston for the cotton year ending August 31 were 461,465 bales against 5[illegible] bales for the previous year ending August 31, 1884. Of the growing cotton crop the News says: "Although some sections report a considerable curtailment of the crop in consequence of long continued dry weather, average advices from the entire cotton growing district points to a yield estimated by conservative people at [illegible]00,000 bales. This estimate, however, is subject to change according to the character of the weather between now and the first frost."

THE TEXAS STRIKE.

GALVESTON, Sept. 1.—After four hours deliberation between the committees of the Knights of Labor and the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe directory, the meeting adjourned at 11 o'clock to-night without finally concluding an adjustment of the difficulties. It is understood that thus far in their arbitration matters have progressed favorably for the labor representatives. The committees will meet again to-morrow morning. All is quiet about the yards.

COTTON MILLS TO RESUME WORK.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1.—To-day the cotton mills at Woodbury, four in number, giving employment to upwards of 2000 operatives, are making arrangements to go to work on full time. The Meadow mill, which has been idle for a year, will start to-day with a full force of 600 and on full time. The Woodbury, Clipper and Park mills and the Druid mill will be run on full time Monday next, as will also the Mount Vernon mill.

STRIKE AT BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 1.—To the great surprise of those most interested the strike of tin can makers became general to-day and there is an entire suspension of that industry. Several employers offered with a five cents per 100 of the demand of the employes, but the offer was rejected. The stock of cans on hand is said to be large and there is exhibited no disposition to yield by either side in the controversy.

NO FEARS OF INDIAN TROUBLES.

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 1.—Government Inspector Armstrong has just returned from an inspection of Indian agencies in Arizona. He reports that among residents of that territory all fears of further Indian depredations have disappeared, and that the Apaches at the San Carlos agency have raised a large crop of grain this year, and are peaceful and contented.

A MEXICAN DEMAND.

GALVESTON, Sept. 1.—An Austin special to the News says: Governor Ireland is in receipt of a letter from Secretary Bayard, in relation to a complaint of Mexicans stealing cattle in DeWitt county, Texas. Accompanying it is a dispatch from United States Minister Jackson at the City of Mexico giving the reply of the Mexican government and the report of the governor of Coahuila, upon which the Mexican foreign minister urges that the sheriff of DeWitt county be punished for trespass upon Mexican territory. Governor Ireland has referred the matter to the DeWitt county authorities for a report of the facts. It is believed there is no ground to sustain the demand of the Mexican government.

SUIT AGAINST A RAILROAD COMPANY.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 1.—Catharine Skeen, administratrix of Wm. Skeen, deceased, entered suit to-day against the Pittsburg, Cincinnati & St. Louis railway to recover $7,700 alleged to be due for work done by her deceased husband on constructing a tunnel on the Pittsburg & Steubenville railroad, which was afterwards absorbed by defendant company. The work was performed over twenty years ago.

EX-SENATOR GWIN'S RECOVERING.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Ex-Senator Gwin of California is on the rapid road to recovery. His condition is greatly improved. As soon as he is sufficiently recovered he will return to his home.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The condition of Senator Gwin [illegible] continues to improve to-night and Dr. Taylor entertains hope of the recovery of his patient.

APPOINTED A COMMISSIONER.

BOSTON, Sept. 1.—Frederick W. Sargent, of this city, has been appointed commissioner for Massachusetts to the North, Central and South American exposition at New Orleans.

THE PRESIDENT.

LAKE PLACID, Sept. 1.—The president and Dr. Ward arrived here at 4 o'clock. They will remain here to-night and visit Adirondack lodge to-morrow.

SPORTING NOTES.

[illegible]

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—There was a large attendance [illegible] weather at the races at Coney Island.

First race, all ages, winning penalties, three-fourths mile—Starters: [illegible] Jim Renwick, [illegible], Avalon, [illegible]. Jim Renwick won by a length, Avalon second, [illegible] third. Time, 1:15.

Second race, sweepstakes [illegible] one and one-eighth miles—Starters: [illegible], Longview, Sapphire, [illegible], Belle, [illegible], Sutler, Tony Foster, King Lee, Harry Rose and Farol. Sutler won by half a length, [illegible] second, Bella third. Time, [illegible].

Third race, two-year-olds, non-winning allowance, three-fourths mile—Starters: Shamrock, Bourbon, Lura Garrison, Portland, Clara Davis, Scottish Lass, Millie Lovely and Bonsoir. Millie won by five lengths, Scottish Lass second, Fortuna third. Time, 1:18¼.

Pools: [illegible] Dwyer's Richmond $[illegible], Imported Richmond $120, Morris & Patton's entries of Tenstone and Bersan $[illegible], Wickham $[illegible], War Eagle $[illegible], Katrina $[illegible], field $140. The start was a good one, and as they swept past the stand Monogram, Katrina, Imported Richmond and Tenstone made a splendid picture. Turning into the bend Monogram and Katrina were so near together that it was hard to distinguish which led. Bersan was running strong a quarter of a length on the outside. On the backstretch Katrina went to the front in good form, Monogram [illegible] second with Bersan third. But [illegible] had a place on the outside of the third [illegible] quarters of the distance, but [illegible]. It meant [illegible] with Katrina. He came out of the bunch at [illegible] with a clipping pace made a memorable finish with Katrina for second place, which ended in the [illegible] as a dead heat. Bersan won, making the race in half a length. Time, [illegible].

Fifth race, selling race, one and one-eighth miles—Starters: Strathspey, Jack o' Hearts, [illegible], Whizzer, [illegible] and Mary Hamilton. Strathspey won by a length, Whizzer second, Mary Hamilton third. Time, [illegible].

Sixth race, hay steeplechase handicap sweepstakes, full course—Starters: Quebec, Puritan, [illegible], Sun Star, Tilford, Jim Carlisle, Judge Griffith, [illegible], [illegible], Glen Arm and Wellington. Wimbledon won by three lengths, Puritan second, Judge Griffith third. Time, [illegible].

[illegible]

[illegible] Ford [illegible] won, Ascoli second, [illegible] third. Time, [illegible].

TROTTING AT NARRAGANSETT PARK.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 1.—The grand trotting circuit meeting at Narragansett park opened to-day with a good attendance and fast track. The weather was slightly cool.

Class 2:34—[illegible] won, [illegible] Wesley second, George L. third, Nellie Gray fourth. Best time, [illegible].

Class 2:30—Wm. Arthur won, Mitch Gould second, Mambrino Sparkle third, Billy Button fourth. Best time, [illegible].

Class 2:18, pacing, unfinished: Toledo Girl won the first heat and Joe Braden the second and third heats. Best time, [illegible].

BALDWIN WILL FIGHT THE SUIT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The Tribune's Chicago special says: "Lucky" Baldwin said to a reporter to-day in regard to the injunction served upon his horses Volante and Rapido at Saratoga, by a couple of his employes to recover $4000 wages, that he had signed no contract, and as he had tendered the men reasonable pay he proposes to fight the matter through the courts if it takes $[illegible]0,000.

MAUD S. TO TROT AGAINST TIME.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 1.—Robert Bonner's celebrated mare Maud S. will attempt to beat her record of [illegible] at Narragansett park Thursday afternoon.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

A COOL MURDERER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—James J. Holland, the Texan who shot and killed Tom Davis yesterday, was taken to police headquarters this morning for the purpose of giving the detectives an opportunity of seeing him. He seemed unconcerned and [illegible] looking. The arrest was a mere formality. Holland was handcuffed to a detective, and crowds followed them through the street. When asked how he felt Holland replied: "I'm all right." He refused to say anything, but [illegible] the affair is due to the fact that Davis and his pals had tried to rob him.

GALVESTON, Sept. 1.—A special to the News from [illegible] [illegible] they were [illegible] on business. He has no family or connections, but has many friends here who fear he has got himself into a bad scrape.

EXAMINATION OF FERDINAND WARD.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Ferdinand Ward was subjected to a long examination to-day before the referee, respecting checks amounting to several million dollars which he made out for the firm of Grant & Ward to the order of Wm. S. Warner in settlement of alleged government contracts. Ward identified various checks as presented [illegible] to inquire into to-day covered the period from December 18 [illegible] the date of the Grant & Ward failure [illegible]. On a transaction of [illegible] he realized a profit of $3,400 in thirty days [illegible] $50,000, which was paid by Warner on February [illegible] and on March [illegible] received a check for $[illegible]. This was divided up into eight contracts. Ward was unable to say why it had been divided up, or who drew the contracts. He supposed they had been brought to him at his office by Warner. A contract for $10,000 paid $[illegible] in twenty-three days. $[illegible] April [illegible] 1883 realized a profit of $4000 a month. The examination will be continued Thursday.

NOTABLE DEAD.

A SUCCESSFUL SHIP CAPTAIN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Capt. Wm. [illegible], late superintendent of the Pacific Mail steamship company at Aspinwall, died Saturday at [illegible] Silver, N. J. He entered the service of the California Steamship company in 18[illegible] and was one of the most successful sea captains out of this port, having commanded twenty steamers on that route and never lost a life or a ship. He was identified with the Pacific Mail for many years and was regarded as a competent and successful navigator. He was superintendent at Aspinwall for [illegible] years. He had a stroke of paralysis two years ago from which he never fully recovered.

RAILROAD NOTES.

CONTROL OF A ROAD SECURED.

GALVESTON, Sept. 1.—Special to the News from Longview: The Galveston & St. Louis Construction company has obtained control of the Gulf, Short Line & St. Louis railway company, and will begin at once putting the road in thorough condition, preparatory to extending it to Carthage. It is understood that all the indebtedness against the railway company has been paid by the construction company, who will complete the link between the gulf and St. Louis, extending through the entire length of the vast prairies of Texas.

Parnell Attends a Banquet and Makes a Speech.

THE KEILEY AFFAIR DISCUSSED

An Agreement Reached on the Proposed Treaty between the United States and Spain—Return of the Czar to Russia.

DUBLIN, Sept. 1.—A banquet was given by the lord mayor at the Mansion house this evening in honor of Parnell and his Irish colleagues in the house of commons. Three hundred guests were present, exclusive of members of parliament. In a speech Parnell said: "If home rule was refused the Irish they would make it impossible for the English to legislate. England could either grant the Irish the right to rule themselves or make the country a crown colony. The latter would be practically tantamount to the former." He denounced outrages, saying a continuation of them would be a terrible blow to the Irish cause. The land question was the great question in Ireland.

Parnell was enthusiastically cheered throughout his speech. He reminded his hearers that the statement that home rule in Ireland was impossible emanated from the same man who said once that good government was impossible. Referring to moonlighting outrages in Kerry, though he thought the perpetrators had some excuse in their desperation and poverty, he prayed Irishmen to forbear, as such actions only injured the cause. With great emphasis he asked landlords during the coming winter of farming depression to show the stuff they were made of by refraining from exacting rents which they [illegible]. If landlords persisted in exacting the full pound of flesh in the [illegible] there would be little flesh left to exact. Parnell said he was confident Ireland was on the brink of victory.

A BLOODY RIOT AT GALWAY.

DUBLIN, Sept. 1.—During a torchlight procession at Galway last night in honor of Timothy O'Connor a number of progressionists attacked a detachment of Yorkshire soldiers on garrison duty. The noise of the disturbance attracted the attention of the latter's comrades, and they issued from the barracks in force, and joined in the melee. For four hours a fight waged, heavy clubs and stones being freely used by both sides. A large number of windows were smashed and many persons were injured. Finally the police, who had in the meantime been reinforced with the aid of the military, [illegible] engaged in the riot, quelled the disturbance.

AUSTRIA.

THE KEILEY AFFAIR.

VIENNA, Sept. 1.—The Keiley affair is still the subject of much criticism in Vienna papers. This evening's semi-official Fremden Blatt says it is expected when Keiley shall have returned to Washington that Cleveland will appoint another representative to Austria. The prevailing opinion in well informed diplomatic circles is now that Keiley's individuality is out of the question, that the cabinet of Washington does not act altogether fairly towards its nominees for diplomatic posts, by failing to comply with the universal custom of first submitting such appointments to the government concerned. In European countries that is the rule. Keiley's case is believed here to be without precedent, and it is felt that the wisest course to pursue would be to let it lapse, appointing another minister.

M. DE GIERS BETS ON PEACE.

VIENNA, Sept. [illegible].—M. de Giers, Russian minister of foreign affairs, in conversing with Consular Agent [illegible] about the scarcity of Bohemian visitors at the Bohemian spas through fear of an Anglo-Russian war, said peace was assured for many years and that he would wager there would be double the number of visitors in 1886.

THE AUSTRIAN CROPS.

VIENNA, Sept. 1.—The international corn market opened here yesterday. The report on the crop [illegible] was read. The wheat crop in Hungary was reported fine. One hundred and fifty thousand hectares more were sown than in 1884, and crop estimates are more than forty million hectoliters.

HEAVY FAILURES.

VIENNA, Sept. 1.—Ludwig [illegible], cloth merchant, [illegible], has failed. Liabilities $1,250,000.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—[illegible] Jones, cotton dealer of this city, has failed. Liabilities $200,000.

THE CHOLERA EPIDEMIC.

SUPPOSED CASES OF CHOLERA.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Spanish ship Marzo, [illegible] from a Spanish port, which arrived at Leith, Scotland, to-day was found to have on board several cases of illness resembling cholera. The vessel was ordered to undergo a forty-eight hours quarantine. There are five cases of suspicious illness among the crew. Two of the sick men are now in a state of convalescence, while the other three are still suffering from abdominal symptoms, accompanied by vomiting resembling that of cholera.

IN ITALY.

ROME, Sept. 1.—Cholera has broken out in the province of Parma. Three cases are reported at Volta and two at Borgo Taro. The Gazette gives notice that precautionary measures will be enforced.

MARSEILLES, Sept. 1.—Twenty-five deaths from cholera were reported in this city to-day. At the Pharo hospital six patients were admitted, two died and eight were discharged cured, and sixty-three remain under treatment.

AT TOULON.

TOULON, Sept. 1.—Eight persons died here from cholera yesterday. There is no apparent increase in the daily average of new cases. The temperature has fallen and the weather become much more favorable.

MONDAY'S RECORD.

MADRID, Sept. 1.—There were [illegible] new cases of cholera and [illegible] deaths reported yesterday throughout Spain.

CANADA.

THE SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—Forty-four new cases of smallpox, of which twenty-four have been authenticated, and four deaths were reported here yesterday. The board this afternoon held a conference with representatives of the boards of health of border towns in the United States and various forwarding companies, with reference to the adoption of means to prevent the disease from being carried across the line by infected persons. The representatives said the boards of health of American towns had absolute authority and could control all traffic, and if proper means were not taken to prevent the spread of the disease they would quarantine every person arriving from Montreal. It was resolved to appoint two doctors to inspect passengers leaving depots in this city.

A WOULD-BE RAVISHER BEHEADED.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Sept. 1.—Martin Archibald, a wealthy farmer residing in Huntington, broke into the house of Mrs. Mary Adams and attempted to ravish her. Her son arriving at the scene, struck him with an axe and he released his hold when Mrs. A[illegible] seizing the axe and attacking Archibald [illegible].

SPAIN.

THE PROPOSED TREATY WITH THE UNITED STATES.

MADRID, Sept. 1.—John A. Foster, American minister, spent a fortnight at the royal palace of La Granja. He had frequent interviews with Señor Elduayen, minister of foreign affairs, on the subject of the proposed new commercial treaty between Spain and the United States. It is understood that although a treaty was not signed an agreement was reached between the representatives of the two governments by which the principal provisions contained in the former treaty were abandoned. The new treaty is confined to reform in the Cuban custom laws. Spain accepts the interpretation of the most favored nation clause signed in February 1884, which was contended for by the United States. Settlement of claims of American citizens against the Spanish government arising from the insurrection in Cuba is provided for.

SPANISH INDIGNATION INCREASING.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Standard's Paris dispatch says: Germany will not surrender the Caroline Islands. There were imposing meetings in numerous cities of France and Spain on Sunday to protest against the [illegible] of Germany on this subject. The [illegible] Bourbon and [illegible] have returned [illegible] with which they had been honored. Spain has received offers of moral and material support throughout the entire country.

ENGLAND.

GLADSTONE IN SCOTLAND.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The yacht Sunbeam with Mr. Gladstone and party on board arrived at Wick, Scotland, yesterday. A deputation of inhabitants of the town went on board the Sunbeam and greeted Mr. Gladstone effusively and invited him to land. Mrs. Gladstone, speaking for her husband, said his health was unequal to the fatigue of landing, and the Sunbeam afterward proceeded south.

ABERDEEN, Sept. 1.—Before leaving the Sunbeam Gladstone addressed the crew in a clear, strong voice. His physician, Sir Andrew Clarke, declares his patient better and that a further change will restore him completely.

MEXICO.

THE MEXICAN CENTRAL RAILWAY.

CITY OF MEXICO, via Galveston, Sept. 1.—The general managership of the Mexican Central railway was transferred to-day by Manager Robinson to Edward W. Jackson, until recently general superintendent of the Vera Cruz railway. Jackson started this morning on a tour of inspection over the entire line to the Texas border. He was accompanied by the retiring manager and principal officers of the railroad. The retiring manager said that the rolling stock was in excellent condition, as were the rails, which were good for many years to come, but that heavy expenditures for ties would be required for the next two years and a half, as these and wooden bridges on the northern division would be required to be replaced almost simultaneously. He also said that careful husbanding of the company's resources would be necessary to keep the operating expenses down to a reasonable percentage. Ties in Mexico decay very rapidly, and for this reason the Vera Cruz road is substituting, at great expense, steel ties on portions of its track. Wooden ties cost $1 each.

RUSSIA.

RETURN OF THE CZAR AND PARTY.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 1.—The czar, czarina and all the members of the imperial entourage who accompanied them to Kremsier arrived at Kiefe yesterday and were present to-day at public festivities given in their honor. These consisted of a sham battle, a banquet and a special gala operatic performance. At the banquet there were [illegible] toasts, and the Russian national anthem sung during the opera was encored. During the evening the city was brilliantly illuminated in honor of the imperial visitors. The czar and czarina were driven through the principal thoroughfares and were everywhere received with enthusiasm and cheering. At a late hour they started for St. Petersburg.

POLES ORDERED EXPELLED.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Prussian government has ordered all Russian and Austrian Poles to quit Danzig before October. Many old established merchants and tradesmen come under this order. The decree exempts settlers previous to 1843, temporary sojourners and those who have served or whose sons have served in the German army.

GERMANY.

THE EMPEROR'S MOVEMENTS.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—Emperor William and Empress Augusta have returned to Berlin for the purpose of personally reviewing a parade of the Guards, at the commemoration of the fifteenth anniversary of the victory of Sedan.

THE EMPRESS RECEIVES PENDLETON.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—Empress Augusta to-day accorded Minister Pendleton a special audience.

NEWS ITEMS FROM VICTORIA.

VICTORIA, Sept. 1.—Following is the Victoria passenger list by the Queen of the Pacific: Miss Nellie Phillips, D. H. Reid, J. N. Moore, John Bain, Mrs. C. H. Sherwood and child, Mrs. Aitken, Mrs. McKeon, Miss McKeon, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Jones, Thomas [illegible], H. Wallace, J. H. Knarston and wife, Mrs. L. [illegible], John T. Galbraith and wife, and several in the steerage.

A dense fog and smoke continues to envelop Puget sound.

The steamers Ancon and Bos[illegible] from the north are one week overdue. The steamship Wellington is fog bound off this harbor.

John [illegible], forty years a resident of the island, died to-day.

Customs returns of August were $15,000 in excess of August 1884.

THE ANCON DISABLED.

VICTORIA, Sept. 1.—The Alaska steamer Ancon broke down 500 miles north of Nanaimo on the 25th of August and was towed into a safe harbor by small boats. The passengers and crew are safe and there is plenty of provisions on board. A tug boat has gone to tow the Ancon to Victoria.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

FATHER UPCHURCH AT OLYMPIA.

OLYMPIA, Sept. 1.—The reception tendered to Father Upchurch last evening was a brilliant affair. It took place in Columbia hall, to which place the founder of the order was conducted by the lodge of A. O. U. W., headed by the cornet band. The exercises consisted of addresses, music and singing, and afterwards the members, their wives and invited guests accompanied Father Upchurch to the Carlton house, where a handsome banquet was provided, to which about sixty persons sat down, after which the usual toasts and speeches took place.

The Lane County Murder Mystery Solved.

THE MURDERER HANGS HIMSELF.

Mrs. Church Hovering between Life and Death—The Influence of Boss Buckley—A Fearful Record of Crime.

EUGENE CITY, Sept. 1.—It is doubted if Lane county has ever been called to chronicle a more horrible tragedy than that outlined in yesterday's dispatch, resulting in the death of D. W. Church. It is impossible to give facts. There were only three actors in the scene, two were buried to-day and the third has not had a moment of consciousness and death is probable at any hour. However circumstantial evidence and neighborhood testimony are so strong as to leave no doubt as to who committed the deed and how and for what reason. Your correspondent has made a thorough examination of the premises. Sunday night about 9 o'clock David Boggs went to the house of D. W. Church in Mohawk valley, ten miles north-east of Eugene. Mr. Church and wife were in bed, and Boggs pounded on the side of the house with the butt of a gun to call Church out. Church drew on his overalls and went out at the front door. Boggs must have stepped between Church and the door and drew the gun when Church started toward the north gate. Boggs then shot him in the back, the bullet issuing just above the heart. Death probably was instantaneous.

THE ATTACK ON MRS. CHURCH.

Boggs then went in the house and assaulted Mrs. Church. Blood [illegible] found all over the floor. She then ran through the house out of the north gate and across a creek forty yards from the house, where Boggs caught her. He threw her down and with a sharp edged six pound stone beat her on the head until he thought life was extinct.

Boggs' Winchester rifle was found near Mrs. Church. It seems that after shooting Church Boggs could not throw out the empty cartridge to reload and therefore used a stone on Mrs. Church.

Monday at [illegible] P. M. J. E. Yarnall was passing by and saw [illegible]. He called neighbors and [illegible] found the body of Mrs. Church. She had nothing on her but a short chemise drawn up to the neck. There were no marks on her person except on the head, where there were four distinct gashes, the skull over the right eye being broken in. Bruises on the neck indicated an attempt at strangulation.

Coroner Osborne held an inquest over the body of Church Monday evening and a verdict was rendered that he met death at the hands of David Boggs.

HANGING IN HIS CABIN.

Sheriff Campbell and posse then spent Monday night in search of Boggs. About 4 o'clock this morning they approached Boggs's house, one mile south of the scene of the murder, and receiving no answer to a call they burst open the door and found Boggs hanging from a beam stone dead. He had taken a small rope, tied a slip knot, passed it over his head, stepped up into a chair, kicked it from under him and fell. Being a heavy man his neck was broken, although when found his feet were flat on the floor. He evidently had gone direct from Church's Sunday night, put on a clean pair of overalls and then suspended himself. Blood was found on the old overalls. Boggs' hat and gun were found at the scene of the murder.

The coroner's jury to-day rendered a verdict that Boggs met death by his own hands.

Church was buried to-day at Eugene and Boggs at Mohawk. Dr. Sharples is skillfully tending Mrs. Church, but her recovery is doubtful. She has two sons and two daughters. The daughters are married.

Boggs was a widower and left five children, mostly married. Church's age was about 45.

THE MOTIVE.

Only one reason is assigned for Boggs's deed. About two years ago Mrs. Church, then Mrs. Jasper Evans, obtained a divorce from Evans. Boggs had greatly admired her and after the divorce furnished her money [illegible] and then finally asked her to marry him. She consented, but afterward she met D. W. Church of Yreka, and last June they were married at Yreka. She returned to Mohawk some time since, and Mr. Church returned about two weeks ago. Boggs has been jealous from the first. A week ago last Sunday Boggs was at Church's house. The former used foul words before Mrs. Church, which angered her husband, and Church and Boggs had warm words. Boggs went to Church's again last Sunday and asked Mr. Church and Jasper Evans, her former husband, to go up on the hill with him. [illegible] all went. Evans testifies that once Boggs cocked his gun and pointed it toward Church, saying that he saw a rabbit. Boggs dropped his gun, however, and soon left for his own cabin to return later with what results have been given.

At [illegible] o'clock this afternoon Mrs. Church was still alive.

CALIFORNIA.

BOSS BUCKLEY'S INFLUENCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—A quarrel between two street contractors over a decision of two judgments for street work obtained against the city in Judge Finn's court to-day, led to some interesting disclosures as to Boss Buckley's skill in manipulating even such an august tribunal as the supreme court. The suit was to recover $5000 from Joseph W. Taylor, balance of a sum of $12,000 which B. Bonnet recovered in two actions against the city for street work, which judgments were paid to J. W. Taylor in trust to pay a note of $4[illegible]; a fee of $1600 of D. H. Whittemore, the attorney who prosecuted the suits of Bonnet, and the remainder to Eli Bonnet in settlement between the latter and Taylor. There were disputes over the expenses which had been incurred in the prosecution of the suits, and one of these was over $100 which the parties had agreed to pay Boss Buckley for his services in getting the case advanced on the trial calendar of the supreme court, to which court the cases had been appealed by the city, thereby enabling plaintiff to get his money two or three years earlier than if the suits had been allowed to drag their weary length along to the top of the calendar without Mr. Buckley's valuable assistance.

THE HOWARD SUICIDE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—In reference to a dispatch from Livingston, Montana, received last night via Portland, reporting an attempted suicide of a son of Gen. O. O. Howard, the following additional particulars have been received from Salt Lake: On Sunday Colonel Stanton returned from a trip through the Yellowstone National park. He reports that the tragedy occurred in lower Fire Hole basin. It appears that Gen. O. O. Howard arrived in the park a few days before, bringing a party of ladies from Omaha. Among them was a young lady who was the fiancée of John Howard, the 19-year-old son of the general. After the arrival of the general and party the two young people had a lovers' quarrel, and Mr. Howard took a pistol, went into the brush near camp and shot himself through the body. He was quickly found and carried into camp, where his wound was examined by Dr. Shannon, U. S. A., who pronounced it fatal. It was not thought that the young man could live more than a day or two when Col. Stanton left the party.

ATTEMPTED MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Another attempted murder and suicide occurred in this city this afternoon. Jens Peter [illegible] attacked Ida Elizabeth [illegible], his recently divorced wife, at her home on [illegible] street, and then shot himself. They were both taken to the receiving hospital, where it was found that the woman had received a bullet in the abdomen, and the man had two wounds in his body which came out at the back. It is believed that the man will recover, but the woman's wound will prove fatal.

KILLED WHILE RESISTING ARREST.

FRESNO, Sept. 1.—This morning Sheriff Meade received a dispatch from Constable Van Orman at Bakersfield to arrest one Gertela Romaro, a Mexican who was wanted at that place for horse-stealing. Deputy Sheriff J. J. White was detailed to look up the man, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Rapelje of Merced. He found his man at work at Frank [illegible]'s shearing pens, west of town. Deputy White called to him that he wanted him, and Gertela picked up his vest, in which he had a revolver concealed, and throwing it across his arm so that he could grasp the hilt he approached officer White, who read him the dispatch that [illegible] Gertela that he wanted him. Gertela commenced to back away from the officer, and when about eight feet distant he threw his revolver in view and discharged it at Mr. White, the ball passing near his left side. Almost immediately the Mexican turned and shot at Deputy Sheriff Rapelje, the ball whizzing in close proximity to that officer's left ear. The officers then drew revolvers and fired two shots at the Mexican's legs, but failed to bring him to bay. The Mexican again raised his pistol and shot at Mr. White, when both officers fired at his breast, and the Mexican fell dead. It is said that Gertela announced the evening previous that he would never be taken alive. An inquest was held on the body this afternoon, and after hearing the facts the jury returned a verdict sustaining the officers.

FIRE AT RED BLUFF.

RED BLUFF, Sept. 1.—Fire last night destroyed Dr. Schorr's building and contents. Loss, $[illegible]; insurance, $1500. An hour later the Union hotel and a number of other buildings were burned, entailing a loss of $16,500. Insurance, $[illegible]. The last fire is believed to have been incendiary.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 2, 1885.

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST HOME PRODUCTS.

Nothing could be more hurtful to industry and prosperity among us than the continued disposition of our own jobbers and dealers to discriminate against home-made commodities. The greatest sinners in this particular are right here in Portland.

Recently a hotel keeper of this city went to a wholesale grocer to buy an assorted lot of Oregon-made jellies. He was told that the Oregon goods were not kept, and California stock was offered him. The customer said he did not want California jellies, because Oregon jellies were much superior, being made out of sounder fruit and by more careful processes. Upon asking the merchant why he did not handle the Oregon instead of the California goods, he got the answer that more profit was to be made out of the latter. This probably is the fact. The California jellies, being made largely out of refuse or rotten fruit, prepared by methods to correspond with the quality of the material, can be sold cheap to the trade, and consumers can be made to pay as much for them as a good article would bring. Every one knows that the jellies supplied from California are almost indistinguishable in taste, color and consistency. The grape jelly, the currant jelly, the quince jelly, you can hardly tell the one from the other.

Yesterday we heard of a similar incident. A fine lot of ax-handles, made of the best of Oregon oak, shapely, smooth and without blemish, was offered to a jobber in Portland who deals in articles in that line. He refused to make an offer for them, said he didn't want them at all, and preferred to sell the eastern article. It was the old story.

The business of soap-making here has been retarded and crippled by the refusal of dealers to handle Oregon soaps, and worse, by their efforts to drive Oregon soaps out of the market. The same policy has crushed the manufacture of glue. The jobber of Eastern or California goods in this market thinks the home product in his way. He discriminates against it, at times cuts prices to ruin home production, and then advances the prices when the home article is out of the way.

Thus it is that our dealers all over the Northwest are largely in league with Eastern and California manufacturers to put down and keep down the growth of our own industries. It is doubtful whether anything else so retards the development of our manufacturing industry as this blighting policy. In the very source of industrial activity it plants stagnation, decay and ruin. How is it to be met?

This is a hard problem. Sometimes it is possible to play on an enlightened selfishness to produce a good result. But when a selfishness is altogether short-sighted, or wholly blind to the greater benefits of the future in order to secure the apparent benefits of the present, even this resource fails.

Perhaps it might be feasible to establish a co-operative association here to push articles of Northwestern manufacture. A depot in Portland established as a storehouse for goods of every description that the Northwest produces or may produce, would afford customers an opportunity to buy goods of home production which they can not get now because our dealers will not keep or handle them. Conducted on right principles, this undertaking might be found practicable. Some method, beyond all question, might be found by which goods of home production could be offered on the market, and thus lay the foundation for development of industries of our own. Every one knows that industry here is without life. They who have attempted to found industries are compelled to encounter the hostility of a large class of jobbers and dealers in goods produced elsewhere. Surely it is time that Oregon's own citizens should cease to aid the manufacturers of other states in crushing those activities at home upon which alone we can rely for promotion of our prosperity.

THE PARTIES AND THE OFFICES.

President Cleveland is claiming merit for his administration mainly on his professions of civil service reform. The professions are fair enough; but the practice, as far as it has gone, differs not appreciably from the spoils system, which has its foundation in bestowal of offices for reward of partisan service. All the officials of so great a government cannot be changed at once. But testimony from all sources, democratic and republican, shows that removal of republicans and appointment of democrats is going on as fast as the departments at Washington can do the work. The postmasters all over the country are being changed at the rate of 500 to 1000 a week. Even at this rate it will take nearly a year more to get through the list. Republicans do not remonstrate or protest against this proceeding; but it is not civil service reform. The purpose is, undoubtedly, to put all the offices in the hands of democrats. This, however, can hardly be accomplished till near the middle of this administration, because it takes time to make so great a change. But when the republicans are all out will the reform be complete? That depends on what one means by reform. It has been said that "a public service recruited solely from one political party, by whatever method of selection, cannot survive a change of party in the administration of the government." And this is perfectly true. To put all the republicans out now may mean the putting out of all the democrats when the next change of parties shall take place at Washington.

Not a democratic convention this year has spoken for the true principles of civil service reform. In many states democratic platforms have been put forth, but in all there has been studious avoidance of declarations in favor of a non-partisan civil service. Though the president has been "endorsed," impatience and chagrin have been manifested because democrats have not been put into office as fast as was expected, though the administration has been working as rapidly as it could. In Virginia the democrats speak for civil service reform, interpreting it by the demand that the administration shall "not be hampered by having obnoxious officials continued in its service." In Ohio, they congratulate the president on "the auspicious beginning he has made in the necessary reforms of the government,"—meaning thereby an expression of their approval upon the progress he has made so far in putting republicans out of office and putting democrats in.

Now if civil service reform is really to be a question in our politics this course will not stand the required test. Not one hearty word is emanating from the democratic party in favor of the reform. Every utterance simply means, "We want the offices." On the other hand the republicans of Ohio say in their platform: "The republican party, which enacted the present civil service law, will faithfully maintain it and cheerfully aid in all needed amendments to give it full force, and it is committed to extend the law to all grades of service to which it is applicable. Ample appropriations should be made to enforce it in letter and spirit." Republicans of Iowa say in their platform: "The republican party inaugurated civil service reform and enacted the present civil service law. It will faithfully maintain it and cheerfully aid in any needed amendments to give it full force." But where is the democratic convention that has pronounced in favor of the law? That considerable body of our people who made the civil service reform the special issue of the last election voted with the democrats that time, and their votes made Mr. Cleveland president. That they should continue to act with the democratic party is clearly impossible.

"Brick" Pomeroy is conducting a paper at Washington city, called The United States Democrat. He will soon change its name to Brick Pomeroy's Democrat. In New York the other day he sent to a Tribune reporter: "My paper is walking right into a big circulation in special opposition to this idiocy known as civil service reform. My pen is against it whenever it crops out, from president down to office-sweeper. It is undemocratic. It will burst up the democratic party if persisted in."

TWO VIEWS OF PROHIBITION.

The Oregon Christian Advocate recently had an article on prohibition, of which the following is a part:

We find three facts: (1) The democratic party is in power in the United States; put into power, it is true, by only a plurality of about one thousand in the great state of New York, and obtaining that plurality only because about twenty-five thousand voters, mostly republicans, did not vote for Blaine, but did vote for St. John. (2.) After holding the presidency twenty-four years the republican party is out of power by the very same causes and the very same number of votes that the democratic party is in. (3.) We find an organized prohibition party which polled 150,000 votes in the United States, a factor so potential as to decide elections of a national character. There is another fact that must be taken into the account; namely, that this prohibition vote does not represent the number of prohibitionists in the country by at least four-fifths. There are millions of voters to-day who vote against the liquor curse in the way they believe most effective to beat it. Four-fifths of them did not vote for St. John because they did not believe that was the best way to promote prohibition, but they voted with prohibition in view just the same.

These statements we think cannot be questioned. The Advocate is very moderate in its opinion that not more than one-fifth of the believers in prohibition voted for St. John. We do not think that one-tenth, nor perhaps more than one-twentieth, voted for him. For it is undeniable that the great body of prohibitionists, North and South, are of opinion that prohibition cannot be promoted best by separate party action; and moreover they are of opinion that in a presidential election it cannot be advantageous to push it to the front.

The California Advocate prints the above extract from the Oregon Advocate, and adds comments which show that the meaning of the extract is missed. We quote from the California paper:

> This large prohibition vote will go against the republican party if it persists in denouncing prohibition, or in refusing to give it respectful recognition. If the national republican convention had passed a resolution in favor of submitting prohibition to the people, Mr. Blaine would have been elected. The democratic party openly bid for the whisky vote by its ancient invention about "sumptuary laws;" but the republican convention evidently intended to be understood as, at least, neutral. That cost it the recent defeat. It is hopeless to undertake to get on in this style. The people are not to be always befogged by high sounding phrases. They are beginning to understand that the liquor traffic is the deadly foe of good order, peace and economy, and that it ought to be and must be prohibited and punished. The republican party will die and be buried, with no hope of a resurrection, unless it treats this question with respect.

Nothing could be further from the tone of the first of these extracts than the tone of the last. The tone of the last is hasty and inconsiderate; it shows that the writer has made no study of the problem and that he has yet to earn the simple elements of it. Prohibition cannot be pushed to success by making it a party issue, in the present state of the public mind. There is no sufficient body of sentiment to support it, especially if presented as a national issue. Had "the national republican convention passed a resolution in favor of submitting prohibition to the people," Mr. Blaine would have been defeated by a majority of millions. He would simply have had no standing whatever in the contest. Democratic prohibitionists, declaring that prohibition was not a political or national issue, and that a presidential election was a political and party election, would have voted with their own party; the republicans would have lost votes by hundreds of thousands, and would not have carried a state, with the exception perhaps of Vermont, Iowa, Kansas and Maine.

Prohibition may be advanced by local effort in places where the sentiment for it is such as to make the effort hopeful; but in no other way. As a question of national politics it cannot obtain consideration, because only a small portion of the prohibitionists themselves think it possible to move the cause forward in this way.

CREDITS IN GOOD AND BAD TIMES.

Every observer of business methods has noticed the constant tendency in prosperous times to extend and expand credits. When business is good everywhere and the great establishments are making money, people with less satisfactory financial standing will be trusted, and those more favorably known will be trusted for a longer time and for greater amounts. When a panic comes, credits are restricted, the screws are applied, the financial standing of buyers is critically scanned, and every debtor is pressed for payment, while new credit is denied or sparingly granted. It is the same at the banks as with those engaged in trade. In trying times, when a line of credit would help many a poor fellow out of a tight place, it is refused, while in flush times, when but few people or nobody is in extreme want of credit, anybody can get it.

It is useless, of course, to suggest that this policy is the reverse of what is best for all concerned. Whether a creditor wants his money or not depends largely on his views as to the ability of his debtor to pay. So long as the creditor supposes the debtor fully able to pay, in most cases he is easy; but so soon as he has reason to suspect that his debtor is finding it difficult to get money, then he wants what is due him, right off.

A more prudent and practicable thing would be the limitation and curtailment of credits in prosperous times. Reduction of lines of credit when trade is active and everybody is making money but corresponds with the efforts of the best business men, who trade partly on their own capital and partly on their credit. At the same time such a policy would admonish less thrifty and careful men in business that they must take care of the loose ends, must retrench expenses, and must pay or reduce their debts while their trade is good, and while their profits furnish them with the means to do it.

The policy of giving everybody credit who asks for it in good times, and refusing nearly everybody credit when a pinch comes, is a policy that makes the pinch more severe and precipitates panics. The lines of credit should be restricted when business is good with everybody, and when credit is less needed. On the other hand credit should be extended in tight times, when collections are hard and money is scarce. Such a reversal of present policies would tend to abate commercial panics, or to render them less severe and limit their extent.

If we understand the democratic argument, the republicans, if they would rid themselves of the charge of "hateful sectionalism," must do penance for a long time by asking the South to forgive and forget the energy which they displayed in contending against slavery, suppressing the rebellion and putting into the constitution of the United States the principle of equal rights. To escape the charge of "sectionalism" and secure full "reconciliation" this record must be blotted out, even as it has been blotted out in his own case by a brother we wot of, who came to Oregon from a republican state as a republican, and then laboriously worked himself over into the democratic party to get the advantage of filling a "long felt want" in democratic journalism.

Reports from our consuls at some of the chief leather producing cities abroad, giving foreign criticisms on the leather made in this country, have brought out some interesting facts from American dealers. A New York leather man said recently to a reporter of the Tribune:

> It is true that most of the American leather is not cut quite as clean as the English and French, because it does not pay us to be so particular. In the latter two countries labor is much cheaper than in this country, and consequently they can afford to spend more time in the curing of their leather, but for all that we manufacture the best leather and can sell it cheaper. Much of their leather is cured with different kinds of chemicals, while the great part of the American leather is cured with hemlock bark.

A San Francisco paper says that a glance at the enormous quantity of fruit trees, especially prunes, peaches and almonds, that are being planted in California causes one to think seriously what possible market can be found in a year or two for the extraordinary yields that will arise. In some sections there are miles and miles of orchards of one and two years' growth which, when in full bearing, in addition to that arising from present sources, would indicate an endless supply of fruit far beyond all possible requirements. Yet there is but little fruit of first-class quality that can be obtained in San Francisco at such reasonable prices as should induce increased consumption. In San Francisco it is still much the same as in Portland. When is this Pacific slope going to find out that it never more can expect the prices and profits of a mining camp?

A WORD OF CORRECTION.

The letter written to the president by William Allen, formerly of Oregon, now of White county, Tennessee, published yesterday, is amusing in some of its features, though incorrect in many. It is amusing chiefly for its braggart tone, and is such a letter as might have been written by Parolles, or Capt. Bobadil. Allen will be remembered in Yamhill county. He was elected to the territorial legislature in 1856, was an ignorant, demonstrative fellow, and an extreme democrat of southern predilections. He regarded himself as a hero because he had masqueraded here in our little Indian war; and this is the basis of his complaint that he never got pay for services. He says: "A democratic congress made a liberal appropriation to pay the expenses of that war. My part of it was $1200. When returning home in 1865 I called at the third auditor's office in Washington to get my pay, but, presto, change, the republicans had cut down the appropriation so that my part of it was only $110." It is absurd to falsify history in this way, but Allen is an extreme and ignorant democratic partisan, and probably knows no better. The partial appropriation for expenses of our Indian war was made by a republican congress. It was secured through the efforts of Senator Baker, after the democratic representatives of the territory and state had failed for years to get anything. Nor was the appropriation cut down by the republicans. Baker got all he could at the time and Allen received his proportion with the rest of us. In begging Cleveland for an office he says: "Any post of danger would suit me. Would prefer something that other men fear." This bombast is quite like him. As a means of identifying him in Yamhill, it is better than his photograph.

This startling advertisement appears in a newspaper of St. Louis: "University of Texas. Next session begins September 16, 1885. Endowment—Bonds, $634,000; lands, 2,000,000 acres. Young men who contemplate making their home in the west, but who wish to take a university course before beginning active life, can save four years by attending the University of Texas." And yet some say there is no royal road to learning.

Senator Colquitt, of Georgia, told a Chicago newspaper reporter the other day, that he was a prohibitionist, but was opposed to any action of the democratic party in Georgia that would make it a political question in that state. Democratic prohibitionists are all opposed to making prohibition a political question, but they want republican prohibitionists to do so.

No republican president ever left the white house for a week's recreation that it did not raise a howl along the democratic line which beat anything ever heard in a Comanche Indian reservation. The sudden change of sentiment among democrats regarding "the neglecting of official duties" remarks the Chicago Inter-Ocean, is impressive.

Nearly a ton of rough diamonds passed through the South African postoffice last year. It will, however, disappoint our democratic friends to be told that those offices are not within the jurisdiction of their national administration.

Speaking of the death of an esteemed citizen, an Olympia paper remarks: "Of his character we have nothing to say, as that was too well known to bear repetition." However, it is plain that a compliment was intended.

THE CHINESE MURDER.—There is as yet no contradiction of the story as to why Mah Yim killed Ng Su Choy in the Chinese joss house yesterday morning, and as it is a reasonable one it may be for the present believed to be the true one The murdered man was and had been for some time employed as a cook on board the river steamer Joseph Kellogg He left the steamer on the night that he was killed to attend the Masonic meeting. In the police court yesterday afternoon the accused murderer sat in the prisoners' dock very quietly, but the nervous darting of his eyes showed that he was suffering from mental anxiety He has obtained counsel in the person of W S Beebe and his case was continued until to-day One singular thing is noticed in this case. Heretofore in cases of murder among the Chinese the city jail and court room has been crowded with friends of the prisoner eager to get a chance to speak with him or to learn what was to be done with him by the law In this case there is nothing of all that. But one Chinaman has called to see the prisoner and the number gathered as spectators in the court room was very small. The police are puzzled to know what to make of it. The most reasonable theory is that the man is forsaken by his friends on account of his having been a convict. It is known that the interrupted meeting of the society was resumed after the dead body had been taken away Messengers were dispatched all over Chinatown and awakened members of the order who had retired There was a large attendance It is said Mah Yim was condemned for the murder and no effort will be made to save him from the gallows All the afternoon the body of Choy lay at the morgue and sandal wood sticks and little rice papers were burned at his feet by the hired mourners to keep away evil spirits. The coroner held an inquest, the testimony, however, furnishing no further facts than have been already published.

THROUGH ST HELENS BAR.—The steam collier Walla Walla came up from St. Helens yesterday and will load wheat for San Francisco She has sluiced out a channel 150 feet wide with a depth of 22 feet at low water through St. Helens bar The cut is 13 feet long So smoky was the weather that the ranges were seldom visible, and Mayor John Gates, who had charge of the work, used the buoys for a guide This being his fourth year in sluicing the bar, he was well acquainted with the grounds, and the absence of clear views of the ranges made no difference New 9-inch lines and two good anchors were provided, and the work accomplished is the best ever done by a steamer Only five days' time was consumed from the time the steamer arrived down until she started back. One half day was taken up in getting ready and another half in moving out of the way of passing craft so that the actual time engaged in sluicing was four days. To specify, the propeller was in motion just forty and one-half hours. This is beyond all question the fastest "dredging" in the world No pattern of a dredge yet invented could have done the work in thrice the time. It was the intention of Mayor Gates to proceed immediately to Martin's Island bar, but the river pilots were unable, on account of the continued smoky weather, to lay out a course for him to work on However, by waiting for tide, vessels of the new grain fleet fully loaded can get over Martin's Island without difficulty, and the sluicing can be done after the Walla Walla returns

WILL EXHIBIT ON CLACKAMAS RAPIDS.—Wm McCormick arrived from the Cascades yesterday with the working model of his proposed rapids tugboat, which he is going to exhibit on Clackamas rapids, as it is much nearer Portland than the Cascades. Parties wishing to see it operate can take the steamer Latona any day during the coming week Mr McCormick called at THE OREGONIAN office last night, bringing with him a large number of drawings of a "life size" craft. It is not possible to describe it in a newspaper without the aid of cuts To be brief he proposes to run the towboat without steam On the center of the shaft to which the very large paddle wheels are attached, is a drum Over this drum a large iron chain (fastened above the rapids will run The force of the current will turn the paddle wheels these must turn the drum, and thus winding the chain up, will draw the boat over the rapids

AUSPICIOUS OPENING —The opening exercises of the Bishop Scott grammar school were held yesterday morning at 8 45 in the chapel of the school They were conducted by the Rev G W Foote of Trinity church, who gave a short but very interesting and appropriate address. It was an earnest appeal to the boys and young men not to put off too many things to be learned in the bitter school of experience in after life, but to take a little wholesome advice from those who have graduated from that institution, and improve the golden opportunities of youth The opening was very promising and proves the growing reputation of the school Many old faces were seen in their accustomed places, while never before in the history of the institution have so many new ones been present at the opening

RAILROAD COMPANY SUED.—Geo S Foster a farmer owning a ranch in section 12, township 1 north, range 2 west, situate between here and Kalama on the line of the Northern Pacific railroad, yesterday began a suit against that corporation, in the state circuit court, alleging that his property was damaged by the building of that railroad to the amount of $812 Plaintiff sets up in his complaint that he granted defendant the right of way over his property upon condition that they should move his house to a place designated without injury, and should always leave to him a road open to his wharf on the river's bank This was not done he alleges, and furthermore in blasting, large quantities of rock were deposited upon his farm and around his barn, the whole damage amounting to the sum for which the suit is brought.

FATAL ACCIDENT —A few days ago Capt. F Rehfeld, with Joseph Smalley and three others started from Gray's river, W T, to do a little prospecting for silver ore, outcroppings of which had been discovered in that section They were all armed and on their tramp last Friday they sat down to rest, Smalley sitting on an incline with his rifle in front of him In some way he slipped and the rifle was discharged, the ball striking the unfortunate young man under the chin and coming out of the back of his head. Death was instantaneous, and not till the next afternoon did the party arrive sorrowfully bearing their burden The young man was about 28 years of age was the chief support of a large family and is spoken of in terms of praise and affectionate remembrance by those who knew him in life

ARRESTED FOR ARSON —Yesterday Ira F Powers, whose furniture factory was burned Sunday morning, came to the police station and swore out a warrant before Judge Moreland, charging Aaron Elkeles with the crime of arson upon which he was subsequently arrested Mr Powers has not specified the amount of proof which he has discovered against Elkeles but has contented himself with saying that he has a good case against him The prisoner, however strongly asserts his innocence It was stated that he had made threats of bringing the factory several times after he was discharged by the proprietor This he denies and also a charge that he was up all night the night of the fire.

BIDS OPENED.—Yesterday the various council committees disposed of a great deal of work which has accumulated in the past three weeks, and which will be dispatched at the council meeting to-night. The committee on streets and public property opened bids for the proposed sewer on Clay street from the river to Third street as follows John Gibson $2912, John Costello $2418 40, F Wilcox $1,758 16 There were three bids for the improvement of North Eleventh street from S to V, B S Reilly Michael Griffin and Kistler & Franey being the bidders Reilly's was the lowest. Blocks 11 and 20 will be awarded to the Multnomah Steam Mills Lumbering & Manufacturing company

LEATHER HATS —There were displayed in a First street millinery store yesterday several samples of ladies' head gear—bright buff imitation alligator hide, the kind satchels are made of There were little horse shoe bonnets and bucket shape hats and tall hats that look like a lemonade shaker with the open end battered up on one side and down on the other No one knows the material of which the "leather" is made, so why wouldn't it be a big thing to manufacture india rubber hats to look like alligator skin That's what this country needs in winter, and it will help fathers of large families to bridge over the hard times and yet have their daughters appear stylish

A MONOGRAM, OR A JOKE —On the Lownsdale street tower of the new High school building well toward the top, there is an alleged ornament in the shape of a monogram which the architect probably intended for "H S." The design may have been all right but the execution is powerful bad, for the thing looks like a bungling $ mark. Perhaps, though, the architect was putting up a sly joke as a gentle reminder to the tax-payers of the district.

WEEKLY and SUNDAY OREGONIAN one year for THREE DOLLARS, WEEKLY one year and SUNDAY six months for $2 50. These offers open till January 1, 1886

TO TILLAMOOK AFOOT —About ten days ago F. C Goodin, book-keeper of THE OREGONIAN, and Rob Pittock started for Tillamook via Astoria, intending to take the steamer A. B Field When they reached the "Venice of America" they found the Field disabled with no chance of another craft to carry them to their destination. As their object was rest and pleasure they determined to foot it to Tillamook. They took the steamer and stage to Clatsop Beach, and using the mail carrier for a guide walked the forty miles over the mountain trail The journey was made in a day and a half Yesterday they returned home via North Yamhill, pleased with their experience.

STRICKEN WITH REMORSE —A gentleman who came down from Corvallis yesterday related to an OREGONIAN reporter a scene which occurred immediately after the accident at Summit station on the Oregon Pacific road Monday afternoon When the engineer, Blackburn, saw that a little girl had been killed through his carelessness he rushed into the crowd and begged of them to hang him or shoot him exclaiming that he did not wish to live any longer He rode to Corvallis on the pilot of the engine and when he arrived there delivered himself to the sheriff charging himself with murder Mrs Lakin was on the train with her child, and her agony was heartrending

NORTH PACIFIC COAL COMPANY —Yesterday in the office of county clerk Sanders were filed articles incorporating the North Pacific Coal Company The duration of the company is fixed at fifty years The company propose to buy sell and develop mines in this county and Cowlitz county, Washington territory Their principal office will be in this city The capital stock of the company is $100 000 divided into $— shares The incorporators are Judge O N Denny W W Spaulding, B P Cardwell Samuel Jenkins Dan Holton C D Folger and John H. Mitchell

RILEY'S TRAINER.—Jack Dempsey, the San Francisco pugilist whose name appeared in the passenger list of the Columbia, did not arrive He sent as a trainer for Riley, who is to fight Campbell, Charley Taylor Taylor is the man who trained Dempsey in all his fights. He also brought Dominick McCaffrey and trained him for three fights. It is said by sportsmen that no man whom Taylor trained ever lost the fight. Riley and Taylor have taken quarters in Clarke county, somewhere near Vancouver, and the curious public will find "no admittance" over the door of their boudoir

TAXPAYERS CITED TO APPEAR —Yesterday the county clerk issued notices to the following named taxpayers warning them to appear before the board of equalization now in session within three days of the time of serving notice, to show cause, if any, why the valuation of assessable property should not be raised W S Ladd, W M Ladd, H. Koehler, receiver of the Oregon & California railroad Murphy, Grant & Co, Wm Reid, the Oregon & Washington Mortgage Savings Bank company, Levi White, and Collinson & Ahpel.

DEATH —F B Kronner, of Seattle, arrived here Saturday night on the Columbia, and took a room at the Merchant. Sunday morning he died of hemorrhage of the lungs. His body was taken in charge by the Freemasons and is now at DeLin's undertaking establishment. Mr Kronner was for fifteen years in the employ of the Western Union Telegraph company, under Mr F H Lamb He went to California in the hope of bettering his health and was enroute to his home in Seattle To-day his body will be sent to friends at Snohomish, W T

IMMIGRATION BOARD —Yesterday the state board of immigration held their regular monthly meeting It was decided to authorize the publication of 10,000 copies of a new pamphlet which is being compiled and prepared under supervision of the board also 50 000 leaflets, both in the German and English languages, for general distribution Most of the new material in the pamphlet will relate to southern and eastern Oregon and representative men of these sections will furnish descriptions of soil, climate agricultural resources etc.

ALASKA OFFICIALS OFF FOR SITKA.—The steamer Idaho, which will sail for Alaska this evening, will carry hence Gov A. P Swineford the newly appointed chief executive of the territory and his staff The party consists of twelve persons, and includes E J Dawne, of Salem whose recent appointment as United States judge for Alaska has been the subject of so many newspaper articles The Idaho will also carry the following additional passengers Mr Moulton, C A Potwine D G Thompson I Wilson M Rockler, Capt. Barnett, wife and family

REDUCED RATES ON HOPS —Taking effect on September 2 the rate on hops compressed to 10 pounds per cubic foot shipped at valuation not to exceed 12 cents per pound, will be $2 per 100 pounds from Pacific coast terminals to through eastern common points This is applicable to all lines in the transcontinental association The reduction is $1 per hundred and was made in answer to resolutions passed by the board of trade requesting such reduction

PROPOSED STREET IMPROVEMENT —There is talk of improving Corbett street in South Portland from Porter street to Lane street If this is to be done it should be done at once, before the rainy weather sets in A portion of this street is traveled by the children at the Home in going to the Failing school, and last winter it was frequently covered ankle deep with mud At least some kind of a sidewalk is necessary to the health of these children

LICENSED TO WED.—Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to the following couples Charles Spencer and Florence J King, Albert Cleveland and Florence B. Preston, George Richardson and Hester M. Sturm, William S Bruce and Lizzie Abenshein

LAST TRIP —On Saturday evening the Lurline will end her trips for the season You will have one more chance to see the beach before the season is over

CHARGES AGAINST CAPT CORNELIUS

Chief Parrish Specifies in Writing why he Suspended the Police Captain

Yesterday afternoon the chief of police filed with the city auditor and clerk the following specifications against Police Capt Cornelius. They will be heard by the committee Friday evening

To the Honorable Committee on Jail and the City Attorney Gentlemen I would most respectfully submit the following charges as my reasons for having suspended Police Capt A W Cornelius

1 That he talked against the chief and officers of the police department in a manner that has tended to create ill-feeling and animosity among the [illegible]

[illegible]

4 Neglecting to pay his bills for the necessaries of life said bills being incurred during service as an officer

Neglecting his duty by placing an officer in charge of the jail and going home before being relieved by the captain of the succeeding watch

6 That he is not careful enough in handling prisoners as is instanced by allowing certain prisoners to be placed in the common cell with a large amount of money on their persons

That he has not used proper caution in placing money and valuables taken from prisoners to their credit on the books by which wrong entries in the arrest book upon the release of prisoners the money or valuables were given to the wrong person.

8 That on July 16 1885, contrary to the express orders of the chief he released a prisoner on bail which to the city was perfectly worthless

9 In that the police business requires a person paid for such work and that unfortunately Capt Cornelius is deficient in the essential points which go to make a successful police officer

Respectfully yours S B. PARRISH
Chief of Police

DROWNING IN TILLAMOOK COUNTY

A letter written by R. T Weatherby, justice of the peace of Hebo, Oregon and acting coroner of Tillamook, states that on Saturday the 8th inst, the body of Mr H F Chambers was found floating in Sand Lake This lake is in the southwestern part of Tillamook county and opens into the Pacific ocean The supposition is that he was drowned the same day the body was found Mr Weatherby was notified Saturday night, and the next day held an inquest, when the following facts were learned Chambers had returned from Tillamook Friday evening he was found floating in the water Saturday afternoon some sixty yards from the mouth of the lake at low tide. About a quarter of a mile above where the body was found his boat was discovered out on the sand near the water In the boat were a pair of oars laid in in good shape, a large hunting knife a fishing knife and a small piece of candle. The verdict of the jury was that the deceased came to his death by accidental drowning The body was taken to the little village some five miles below the lake on the Nestucca river and buried.

Cap sociable at Nonpareil hall Wednesday evening September 2 admission twenty five cents.

SMELTING WORKS PROJECT

Unofficial Report of a Gentleman who has Investigated the Matter.

Mr R M Steele, the well-known contractor and capitalist, arrived here a day or two since from the east after an absence of six months While he was in Chicago, some time since, he was requested by certain business men of this city to make a thorough investigation of the subject of smelting works, and to learn what he could as to the probability of an enterprise of that character paying, if established here With this object in view, Mr Steele spent four weeks examining the smelting works in Omaha, Salt Lake and Denver, getting most of his knowledge in the former city To an OREGONIAN reporter who applied to him for a statement of the result of his investigations, Mr Steele said there was no question as to the successful outcome of smelting works in Portland provided a constant supply of ore could be obtained The principal item of expense in smelting is fuel coke coal and wood, and these are cheaper in Portland than at either of the cities mentioned above The Omaha people started about twelve years ago with an investment of $30 000 They have a plant now valued between $800 000 and $1 000 000 all paid for out of the profits of the concern besides making half a dozen men independently wealthy. They have drawn their supply of ores from all parts of the far west. Just now they are receiving more from the Wood river country than any other section

Mr Steele says that it will cost about $30 000 to erect smelting works with two stacks This is amply large for a starter The great beauty about smelting works is that they can always be added to if there is a demand and the old remain as good as ever It is just as simple as a farmer cultivating additional ground whenever he thinks it will pay The Omaha people have continually used and are now using their original $30 000 plant To run two stacks and make them pay will require from fifty to eighty tons of ore per day Now, the question is, can Portland secure this amount

It is not likely, Mr Steele thinks that any of the Wood river ore will be shipped westward The Union Pacific railroad will grant only the same rates on the short haul to Huntington that they charge on the long haul to Omaha. The rates to Denver, Salt Lake and Omaha are the same It is low rate, as a matter of necessity, because nearly all the ore is low grade and can not bear expensive transportation. The railroad company however, are compensated by return freights in the way of supplies from Omaha into the Wood river mines So Portland must look elsewhere for an ore supply

There is an abundance of milling ores in the Cœur d Alene and Colville mines, but what they offer in the way of smelting ores is unknown and will have to be investigated Sufficiently low rates have been granted by the Northern Pacific and the O R & N roads. In the Weiser district considerable smelting ore is to be had and it can be turned to Portland Reports from the new Lime creek mines are too indefinite to determine whether there is likely to be any quantity of ore suitable for smelting Mr Steele expects very soon to visit the mines mentioned above to inform himself upon the subject in hand. The establishment of smelting works in Portland is contingent only on the question of ore supply

SALEM NOTES.

SALEM Sept. 1

Hon Z. F Wheeler and family have returned from their trip to Victoria.

T L. Stewart, of Fossil, has been appointed notary public by Gov Moody

Wesley Graves and wife of the Chemeketa hotel will to-morrow celebrate the 45th anniversary of their marriage

The Willamette university will have a kindergarten connected with it during the ensuing school year under the management of Miss Harrington.

E C Cross, of this city, has been awarded the contract for supplying the United States Indian training school with beef for the ensuing year, at $5 2 per cwt.

Father Upchurch of the A. O U W will visit Salem on Friday next, and will be tendered a public reception by the two lodges of this city Dr C. H Hall will deliver the address of welcome

James Downing died at his home near Sublimity on Saturday last, from the effect of injuries received in a threshing machine on the preceding Thursday He was 54 years of age and leaves a wife and four children

Squire Farrar, one of our enterprising merchants, who has been experimenting in shipping Oregon fruit to Chicago and other eastern points, has returned home from a trip hence, and reports himself well pleased with the result of his venture and will at once send forward another shipment of pears and plums carefully selected and packed under his personal supervision

The board of public building commissioners to-day opened the sealed proposals for the construction of additional work shops at the Oregon penitentiary They were as follows A. Volswinkler $11 256 Hobkirk & McKenzie $10,440, Albert Ollinger $10,250, Seel & Bingham $9995, J J Shepherd $9800 J E Marshall $9765 The board has not yet announced its award

Universal regret is expressed on the removal of Dr W V Coffin, superintendent of the United States Indian training school near this city He has made the school what it is to-day —a success, and has surmounted innumerable difficulties in its management. Although he has never taken an active interest in politics, he is nevertheless, a republican and of course an offensive partisan

The Hall safe in the blacksmith shop of Scriber & Phile, of this city was blown open last night by burglars and its contents rifled. The light fingered gentry secured but about $12 50 for their pains, however The inner drawers containing notes and other valuable papers were removed but were afterwards discovered under a sidewalk near the shop The job was performed by a professional and was neatly executed

Lafayette Williamson a renter on the farm of A Frazier located near Wheatland, was trampled to death yesterday by an infuriated cow Upon entering the corral where the animal was confined with a young calf, he took with him a dog The cow started for the canine and ran over Mr Williamson and then trampled upon him until life was well nigh extinct. Mr Frazier came to his rescue and at once sent here for a physician but the injured man died before the physician arrived Mr Williamson was an industrious man and well liked by all who knew him He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss

FROM CHEHALIS VALLEY

ELMA, W T., Aug 3

A county fair is projected to take place in Elma September 1, 17 Definite arrangements will be effected in Montesano next Saturday This will be the first fair in Chehalis county Everything points to its being a successful one From it a selection of products will be made to go to New Orleans, in charge of E. Meeker Esq commissioner for Washington

Fishing for trout is good. E. Bragdon of Montesano a few days since caught the largest trout in Satsop river the largest of which weighed seven pounds The fish made a desperate fight and came near tiring Mr. B. out. But for assistance he could not have landed him

Mr and Mrs J J Carney go to Portland on business to-day, in connection with their mercantile establishment at this place.

Mr Bragdon, above referred to, who is well known in the commercial circles of Portland, will remove from Montesano to Portland in a short time and probably reside there permanently

The Koquain a good-sized creek two miles distant from Elma, is one of the best trout fishing streams emptying into the Chehalis river Local fishermen obtain many speckled beauties from its numerous pools

Mr Gerlin Hughett, who lives at Greenwood three miles east of Elma met with a severe injury to one of his eyes about two weeks since, by having the ball pierced with a wheat straw while he was at work in the harvest field Inflammation followed and the loss of sight was threatened Slight improvement now is shown, and hopes are entertained of ultimate recovery

That cougar is dead His funeral took place four days ago His appetite for sheep meat was so strong that his "taking off" could not be postponed until my arrival I have not given up all hope yet, however These beasts still reside in the region roundabout. Last Thursday, when coming from Olympia to this place by stage a company of ministers and myself were considerably startled by seeing tracks—genuine cougar tracks—so the driver said Soon, none too soon, our fears were allayed by seeing two dogs and an armed man in hot pursuit. We pushed on with the stage in a very short time and [illegible]

The fight [illegible] which diminishes [illegible] short [illegible] for him. H H

THE NAGPORE'S DOUBLE PILOTAGE.

Captain Fraser will Refer the Bill of Would-be Pilot Snow to the Pilot Commissioners

Astorian Aug. 30

Yesterday H. A. Snow caused the arrest of Capt. Frazer of the British ship Nagpore, which finished loading grain last evening The captain gave bonds for his appearance

The circumstances are substantially as follows Upon the arrival of the Nagpore Snow piloted her to Portland The custom is for the pilot who takes the vessel to Portland to take her back here On Thursday the 20th inst, Snow got a dispatch asking him to what draft to load her Snow telegraphed "sixteen feet," and went up the next day, reporting to the captain, who said that he had another pilot Some delay followed, which resulted in the ship's loading to eighteen feet and starting from Portland the following Monday with that draft, Al Betts taking her safely through and getting here Tuesday afternoon

Upon the arrival of the vessel Snow presented a bill of $68 to the captain for towage of the vessel at seventeen feet. The captain paid Betts, and refused to pay Snow, who libeled the vessel Snow claims that the condition of the tide on the 20th justified him in sending the telegram on that day saying to load her to sixteen feet that he knows the river and would have been willing and able to take her down drawing eighteen feet on the Monday following as the tide was constantly increasing The captain claims that the extra two feet that he was enabled to load made a difference of over 150 tons to the foot, which cut down his bills for lighterage $400 thus effecting a saving of that amount to the vessel Upon this fact he, through his agents bases his refusal to pay the $68 that Snow demands. Yesterday morning the agents of the vessel deposited $68 with the board of pilot commissioners and gave notice of their intention to present, to-morrow charges against Snow alleging want of knowledge of the river in his pilot grounds, and citing the fact that by loading the vessel to eighteen feet they saved $400 Opinion is divided and the above is believed to be a fair statement of the question

THE STAGE

THE NEW MARKET —A fair house greeted the second presentation of "Paintin' the Town Red" at the New Market theater by the Alma Stuart Stanley company The performance was much smoother than on the opening night and the people of the cast seemed more at home in their respective roles and showed less of the uncertainties that were then so apparent. There is no pretension of literary or dramatic merit for the play, it is simply a musical melange made up of selections from the most popular authors and put together with the view to furnishing amusement for an evening and to afford Miss Stanley scope for the exhibition of her specialties, in which she is exceptionally clever Her Japanese song and dance, "Princess Ichi Ban," is a very artistic and interesting piece of work, as are also her male impersonations. She certainly makes a most charming swell, and sings "George Goulet" and "The Masher" with all the chic imaginable. Frank Blair's "Mlle Bonfanti" is a most amusing take-off on the ballet, and the "Medley Duet" between him and Miss Stanley was very well done Miss Edgar's song, "Love, I Will Love Thee Ever," received a hearty encore, and Barry Yates' and Hattie Moore's duet from the fourth act of "Trovatore" was warmly appreciated A feature of the performance is the fine orchestra under the leadership of Mr Kinross. During the second act Mr H J Sargent, who in former years gained quite a reputation as a sleight-of-hand performer, did some very clever feats of legerdemain, to the great amusement of his audience On Thursday night several new specialties will be introduced

Beautiful weather for the tramps and pleasure seekers

The Odd Fellows are making arrangements to organize a lodge in Newport.

The Mechanics brass band of Albany are here in uniform and are having a good time generally

To correct an erroneous report in regard to accommodations, I will state that the visitors who have come here on excursions were always cared for If the hotels are full the private families open their houses, so no one need stay away for fear of not getting a place to sleep or eat. All who come will be accommodated

The Oregon Pacific railroad brought in about one hundred and fifty passengers Saturday Most of them are in Newport. The beach to-day looks like First street in Portland on the Fourth of July or when the Mechanics fair is in progress Hundreds are promenading and apparently enjoying themselves to the greatest extent

The order of Freemasons last night organized a lodge in Newport and denominated it "Newport No 85 Many brothers of the order were in attendance from the valley lodges The hall was opened for inspection of invited friends on Friday evening, and it does credit to the managers It is furnished with all the necessary appurtenances to instruct the apprentice in his work

AN INTERVIEW.

What Two Eastern Manufacturers Think of Oregon and Washington—Our Extravagant Notions and Inflated Values

ON THE TRAIN BETWEEN THE DALLES AND UMATILLA, August 31

Writing on the flat side of a valise in a jolting car is not easy, but I have just heard some things in conversation with two fellow passengers which will interest the readers of THE OREGONIAN, and I will set them down while they are fresh in mind. Mr A. L. Wetherald, of Massillon, Ohio, and Mr Orville C Dewey, of Wheeling, West Virginia, are on the train, (we left Portland this morning) en route home, after a visit of nearly three weeks to Oregon and Washington, and both are men of large wealth, and both are and have been for many years in the iron and steel manufacturing business Mr Wetherald is a nail manufacturer and supplies a great share of the steel nails used on the Pacific coast. These gentlemen have visited our country to see what may be done in the way of nail and steel making here, and if they find that the business can be conducted profitably they will establish a blast and factory here—possibly in Oregon, but probably on Puget sound Said Mr Wetherald to me, half an hour ago "We do not expect to do any great thing and above all, we do not propose to attempt anything we can't carry out. We are practical men, and whatever we do will be done in a very commonplace and practical way About 350,000 kegs of nails are used every year on the Pacific coast, nearly all of which are made in the east We (that is, Mr Dewey & Co) had an idea before we left home that the coast market could be supplied cheaper from some point on the coast than from eastern factories, and the object of our trip was to examine the field We have visited all the iron beds in the country, real or imaginary, we have visited all the coal fields, and from these sources have collected several boxes of specimens. These specimens will be analyzed when we get home and we will take a month to work up our figures. If we build works it will probably be on Puget sound. The iron there (that is, some of it) is better for our purposes than the iron in Oregon. Much of the ore both in Oregon and Washington is affected by phosphorous and sulphur, and so cannot be used to make steel. We propose to start, if at all, in the manufacture of nails, and will make just such quantity as the coast market will take—about 300,000 kegs a year If, after working up our figures, we find that we can make and sell nails at a profit of 10 cents per keg then we shall come. We are not expecting to double our money or make our everlasting fortunes in a year or in five years"

"The chief difficulty in the way of our enterprise and in the way of all such enterprises is the extravagant values which the people put upon such property as we require. The owners of coal lands talk not about thousands of dollars, but about hundreds of thousands Now in the East we buy coal land with a six foot seam at say $40 per acre Here coal land owners want pay at the rate of a thousand dollars per acre, or more. We find that the furnaces about Portland and near Port Townsend use charcoal altogether, but this is too expensive It takes about 150 bushels of charcoal, worth seven cents per bushel, to reduce a ton of metal. Why, we turn out Bessemer iron at Wheeling for $16 per ton. To do this we must use coke, and it is not every coal that will make coke Such works as we think of would give employment to about 300 skilled laborers, and to a good deal of common labor beside"

Turning to general matters Mr Wetherald said "You've got a wonderfully fine country, but your people have too inflated notions. You will never do anything in the way of manufacture to compete with the East till you deal with cents instead of dollars

Our train does not look like 'hard times' We pulled out from Portland this afternoon with seven passenger cars and with 198 passengers. These figures are kindly furnished me by Conductor McGuire All but about twenty nine are way passengers. I expect to reach Baker City at 11 o clock to morrow, and I will start at once for the supposed land of gold—Pine Creek valley A H

New Fall Goods!

SEPTEMBER 1.

In introducing my new stock of Fall Clothing, I will state that in selecting it, the utmost care has been exercised in choosing the quality and the class of goods that will suit the wants and the tastes of my customers.

It is gratifying also to be able to state that the prices are remarkably low in fact, I do not hesitate in making the assertion that my stock throughout is of such magnitude in style and quality and of that excellent value which will commend it to the most critical.

Attention is directed to my new stock of

FINE BUSINESS AND DRESS SUITS!

ALSO

OVERCOATS!

The quality of the fabrics, the style and finish of the goods also the variety and extent of my stock surpasses in design and value anything ever offered in this market

The Children's Department

DEPRESSION OF THE SHIPPING INTEREST

New York Sun, Aug 25

There is a tradition to the effect that the transatlantic steamship lines once upon a time paid dividends said Andrew Underhill of the Guion line I used to read about it in old books and think it must have been somewhere in the paleozoic epoch We do not think of dividends now The question uppermost in the minds of steamship men is which line will starve to death first Johnny Bull got the opportunity to drive the Americans off the ocean but now his chickens are home to roost

The reporter was informed that grain provisions cotton and general merchandise are now taken by the steamship companies at losing rates In fact, with the exception of a few short intervals this has been the case for several years There are recent instances wherein the companies paid the lighterage fees for bringing grain from Brooklyn elevators to the steamships and then took the grain to Liverpool for nothing Not long ago the Boston branch of the Cunard line paid for lour just as it would for any other ballast

Yesterday grain was taken by the Liverpool steamers at four cents a bushel, provisions at 2 [illegible] and cotton at $1 a bale An English steamship sailing from Baltimore engaged to carry 400 000 bushels of grain to Liverpool for one cent a bushel Steamship men say that such rates as these have depreciated steamship property until it is now compared with several of the many dilapidated American railroad mortgages The greater part of steamship property is capitalized abroad or held by Englishmen, and that is what Mr Underhill meant when he said that Johnny Bull's chickens had decided that they would roost at home

It was asserted that the companies have already suffered from the severe losses, and had it not been for the relief given by the English government which during the Afghan excitement it chartered the Umbria, Oregon America Erin Italy Egypt Denmark the Queen, France Arizona Alaska Abyssinia State of Nebraska Devonia Bolivia [illegible] Lydian Monarch and Persian Monarch paying $65 000 a month, these and other steamships would have been withdrawn.

This money filled quite a gap in the cash box but the admiralty is to return the vessels on September 1 and steamship agents here say they are in a quandary as to what they will do and what rates will be current when these vessels with a combined carrying capacity of 88 2[illegible]4 tons are returned to them There are now about twenty two steamship lines between this city and the United Kingdom and Europe In the regular service there are about 100 steamships, but what are known as tramps or steamers with roving commissions are as thick as locusts

An expert says that grain at anything less than 6 or 7 cents a bushel to Liverpool shows a loss to the steamship companies The present rate of 4 cents means further depreciation in ocean property The stevedore charges are 1½ cents a bushel trimming costs ⅛ cent more and to this must be added the expenses of the ship insurance, in[illegible] salvage salaries of officers and crews port charges tonnage dues at both ports pilot charges interest on the cost of the ship repairs which are estimated at [illegible] per cent annually on the moneys invested and other expenses The passenger traffic is only for a few weeks and does not offset the losses arising from low rates for freight

Angostura Bitters were prepared by Dr J G B Siegert for his private use Their reputation is such to-day that they have become generally known as the best appetizing tonic Beware of counterfeits Ask your druggist for the genuine article manufactured by Dr J G B Siegert & Sons

The Beauty of Woman

[illegible] of glory Fair alas! how quickly the nervous debility and chronic weakness of the sex cause the bloom of youth to pass away sharpen the lovely features and emaciate the rounded form! There is but one remedy which will restore the faded roses and bring back the grace of youth It is Dr Pierce's 'Favorite Prescription' a sovereign remedy for the diseases peculiar to females It is one of the greatest boons ever conferred upon the human race, for it preserves that which is fairest and dearest to all mankind—the beauty and the health of woman.

THE LANDING OF PROHIBITED IMMIGRANTS

WASHINGTON, Sept 1 Acting Secretary Fairchild has issued a circular to commissioners of immigration and customs officers in regard to the landing of prohibited immigrants. It says that in view of difficulties which have arisen in regard to the construction of so much of section 2 of an act to regulate immigration approved August 3[illegible] 1882 as refers to the landing of convicts, lunatics idiots or persons unable to take care of themselves without becoming a public charge it has been deemed advisable to make other rules in regard to the regulations heretofore made on the subject One of the new rules provides that all immigrants arriving at ports of the United States shall not be regarded in fact as landed within the meaning of the second section of the act referred to so long as they are undergoing examination by the commissioners of immigration or of their agents or representatives, and so long as they are temporarily in charge of these officers and any temporary removal of prohibited immigrants from on board a ship to a place of convenient examination care or treatment as incidental to such examination shall not be considered landing, until such officers shall have discharged such immigrants or returned them on ship board

REGARDING THE CENSUS

WASHINGTON, Sept 1—At the last session of congress provision was made for the payment by the United States of one half the cost of taking a census in such states and territories as might take a decennial census upon condition that returns be filed with the secretary of the interior on or before September 1 Returns from New Mexico have just been received and are as follows Population in 1885 131 985 population in 1880 11[illegible] 565 Farms in 1885 10 [illegible]91 farms in 1880 [illegible] Manufacturing establishments in 1885 [illegible] manufacturing establishments in 1880 144 Returns from eight counties in Florida have also been received and complete returns are expected shortly Up to date the department has received returns from Colorado Dakota, Nebraska New Mexico and Florida It is known that several other states and territories have made a census but those whose returns failed to reach the department before 4 o'clock will not be entitled to receive the rebate provided by the appropriation bill

A REPLY TO NORRIS'S LETTER.

WASHINGTON Sept 1 The third auditor of the treasury has sent a rather peppery letter to ex-Pension Agent Norris of Philadelphia in reply to the letter of the latter giving reasons why his June accounts have not been made up and reported to the government The third auditor says that under the law his accounts should have been settled within ten days after the close of the month but that, if circumstances justify it the time may be extended by the secretary of the treasury Mr Norris has not only allowed a forty days extension to pass but sixty days without making any report That too without making any application to the secretary for an extension of time The auditor denied having exhibited Mr Norris as a technical embezzler and defaulter and closes by saying that he stated the facts to the public which had a right to demand them and that if Mr Norris was hurt it was his own fault

THE NEW POSTAL CARD

WASHINGTON Sept 1—An installment of 100 000 postal cards from the new contractor arrived at the city postoffice to-day The new cards differ considerably from the old cards in appearance The size is exactly the same The design is printed in a light brown color Instead of the head of the Goddess of Liberty in a vignette in the corner appears a fine engraving of Jefferson's head and instead of the monogram U S the new card has on it the words United States printed at length On the address side of the old card were printed the words, Nothing but the address to be placed on this side. This expression has been changed on the new card so as to read as follows Nothing but the address to be on this side

A KENTUCKY APPEAL

WASHINGTON Sept 1—Acting Postmaster General Stevenson to-day received a delegation composed of Representatives Wills and [illegible] of Kentucky Representative Kleiner of Indiana Judge Murray of Kentucky and contractor Hite of Louisville who came to present arguments showing the necessity for the revocation of the order discontinuing the steamboat service between Louisville Kentucky and Evansville, Indiana. After hearing the statements made by the delegation the acting postmaster general reserved his decision and it is probable that no final action will be taken in the matter until the return of the postmaster-general

NEW POSITION ACCEPTED

WASHINGTON Sept 1—The management of the American exposition having conferred upon Maj Charles S Hill of the state department the appointment of commissioner of consular and diplomatic exhibits in appreciation of his efficient work in behalf of that department's industrial exhibit last year he has resigned his departmental duties to give his whole time to the interests of southern industries.

ORDERED TO THEIR POSTS

WASHINGTON Sept 1—In compliance with the requirements of the general order sending army officers back to their regiments who have served over three years on detached duty, Lieut Col James F Gregory corps of engineers, and George W. Davis Fourteenth infantry were to-day relieved from duty on Lieut Gen Sheridan's staff and ordered to their posts

THE PRESIDENTIAL POSTOFFICES.

WASHINGTON Sept 1—Of the 2[illegible]2 presidential postmasters in the United States changes have been made in 4[illegible] cases since the adjournment of the senate A list of nominations of these offices is now being made at the postoffice department to receive the signature of the president and be transmitted to the senate upon the beginning of the next session.

PURCHASE OF SILVER

WASHINGTON, Sept 1—The treasury department to-day purchased 400 000 ounces of silver for delivery at the New Orleans and San Francisco mints for coinage into standard dollars The amount purchased is larger than usual owing mainly to the good terms at which bullion was offered.

CANOEISTS DROWNED

FOOD ADULTERATION.

The Views of Colman Commissioner of Agriculture on the Question

WASHINGTON Sept 1—The association of official agricultural chemists met in annual convention at the department of agriculture to-day with Vice-President Prof H C White of Georgia in the chair Mr Colman commissioner of agriculture, delivered an address in which after declaring his entire sympathy and that of the farmers of the country in the object of the association, which is to secure uniform analysis of fertilizers he expressed a hope that the association would extend its deliberation to the methods of chemical analysis He thought the association should also fix standards of purity for the different kinds of food and establish methods for the detection of adulterations. He thought the general government ought to co-operate with the respective state governments in passing the most stringent laws against adulteration of foods Upon this point he said It is a simple matter as to the adulteration of milk It would be hard to secure conviction in a court of a person practicing it because of the absence of any legal standard by means of which the extent of adulteration could be measured It should not only be the object of agriculturists to see that abundant crops should be produced but also to see that the products of the fields should be delivered to consumers free from any cheap or deleterious adulteration In this question of food adulteration I have long been greatly interested and am anxious that other steps may be taken by means of which the extent of it may be diminished I have already directed the chemists of this department to give attention to adulteration of food Frauds that are practiced upon the public in adding cheap and harmful ingredients to the food we eat in order to make greater profits ought to be dispensed with [illegible] the agricultural interests of our nation are now almost prostrate. The honest producer of a pure article is impoverished while the manufacturers and dealers in the fraudulent article are enriched some of them having become millionaires by this illegal work The same may be said in relation to the adulteration of our sugars and syrups"

At the conclusion of Colman's address reports of commissioners appointed at the last meeting of the association upon the best methods of determining phosphoric acid and potash in fertilizers were read and debated. Prof T S Gladding read a paper on each subject.

THE O R & N LEASE

The following particulars are in addition to those telegraphed to THE OREGONIAN and published last Saturday:

The Oregon company in the fifth section, states that its indebtedness amounts to $12,-20[illegible] [illegible] and the yet untried claims of the Bethlehem iron works, the Oregon Transcontinental and the Oregon Railway companies, amounting in all to less than $800,000 Under the lease $16 4[illegible]2,600 of consolidated fives are to be issued, which section six provides shall be used as follows To cancel the first-mortgage bonds, the scrip certificates and the debentures, $2,20[illegible],000 Another million is to be set aside to meet the contested claims mentioned above.

Should the courts rule adversely, the balance of the issue is to be devoted to improvements of the road and its rolling stock. Should the $6,0[illegible]0,000 of the first mortgage bonds not be taken up by July 1, 1887, the new issue of consolidated fives to a like amount are to be deposited with the Farmers' Loan and Trust company, of New York, as trustee Article two provides that an annual rental for the leased property to the amount of $1,200,000 shall be paid for each of the first three years, and $[illegible]0,000 for each of all the ensuing years of the lease, the first semi-annual payment of $600,000 being due on January 1 next. It is also further provided that until the $6,000,000 of the first mortgage has been redeemed, 6 per cent. interest in gold is to be paid on these securities, January and July being the months for these expenditures The $1,200,000 scrip certificates are to draw 8 per cent. interest in lawful money the first payment to be made next November, two-thirds by the lessees and one-third by the lessor The debentures, amounting to $[illegible],000, are to receive 7 per cent. in gold, the first payment being due next October, the lessees and the lessor sharing equally the expense The new consolidated fives are to have their interest paid in gold in June and December of each year The Northern Pacific and its partners in the lease are required to maintain and operate the Oregon road, providing for all repairs, alterations and extensions and are empowered to use the present property in any way they may deem most expedient. They are also to meet all expenses, costs, damages, or any other claims which may arise in the future, without deduction from the agreed rate, and make all the required payments to the sinking fund In brief, the Oregon road becomes a part of the Northern Pacific and Union Pacific systems, and the latter assume the former's obligations and guarantee its fixed charges
